

HANDPRINT FIREWORKS

Lesson of the Day:

Celebrate your victories, as well as those of other people! Sometimes we focus so much on our mistakes that we don't notice the things we get right. We are all amazing and deserve to acknowledge the amazing things we do. So don't forget to root for yourself and those you love, and to celebrate all the things that make you the amazing people you are!

Materials:

- Paint
- Glitter Glue
- Black cardstock
- Paintbrushes

Instructions:

1. Discuss the lesson of the day with your students. Talk about what it means to them.
2. Help students put colorful handprints onto black paper.
3. Then give the students glitter glue with which to embellish their handprints and turn them into fireworks!
4. If you are comfortable with loose glitter, you can allow students to add some of that as well.
