

LITTLE LEADERS: BOLD WOMEN IN BLACK HISTORY

VASHTI HARRISON

So often we hear about the white heroes of our country, particularly the men. Sometimes we hear about the white women who have done incredible things, or the black men. But what about the black women? This book looks at many of the female black heroes of this country, from the more well-known like Harriet Tubman to those you may not have heard of, like Marian Anderson. Learn more about these incredible leaders here!

Questions:

THIS BOOK TALKS ABOUT SEVERAL KEY FIGURES IN BLACK HISTORY. FOR EACH OF THEM FEEL FREE TO DISCUSS ANY/ALL OF THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS.

1. Has anyone ever heard of this amazing woman before?
2. What do you think was amazing about what she did?
3. Would it have been easy to do something like that before anyone else who looks like you had ever done it?
4. How would you have felt if you were her and knew in your heart that you wanted to do something but no one had ever done it before?
5. Do you know any other people who did something similar? They can be men or women, white, black, or any other race. Why do you think you have you heard of them but not this woman?
6. Is it ever easy to be the first to do something? How would things be different for black people (writers, scientists, etc.) today if this woman hadn't been brave enough to stand up and follow her heart?
7. How is this woman inspiring? How did she show empathy and that she cared about others? How was she kind?
