

MOSAIC PAPER PLATE TURTLE

Lesson of the Day:

Turtles may wear protection, but underneath there is still a vulnerable creature. Just because someone puts up walls doesn't mean they aren't still human underneath and doesn't mean they can't be hurt. Be kind to everyone.

Materials:

- Tissue paper
- Paper plate
- Glue
- Scissors
- Googly eyes
- Construction paper

Instructions:

1. Discuss the lesson of the day with your students. Talk about what it means to them.
2. Have students glue tissue paper squares to the back of a paper plate. The tissue can overlap, but it should cover the entire back of the plate.
3. While that starts to dry, have students cut out and color the arms, legs, tail, and face. Have them glue on googly eyes and draw a face.
4. Have students cut any extra tissue paper hanging over the edge of the plate and glue the arms, legs, tail, and head to the plate.
