

MUG FOR GRANDPARENTS

Lesson of the Day:

What are some things that our grandparents like? Do they like reading the newspaper? Do they like drinking coffee? When we give someone a gift we have to think about the things they like, rather than only thinking about the things that we would like to get. It's as important to give gifts as it is to get them, and when you give a good gift and make someone happy, it's like a gift for you too.

Materials:

- White coffee mugs
- Letter stickers
- Shape stickers
- Sharpies in various colors

Instructions:

1. Discuss the lesson of the day with your students. Talk about what it means to them.
2. Give students mugs and stickers. Have them place the stickers to spell out or decorate however they would like.
3. Have students color their mugs with sharpies, coloring over the stickers. The more scribble-scrabble they do, the more fun the mug will be!
4. Remove the stickers to show the design they made on the white part of the mug.
