

PERSONAL PIZZA

Lesson of the Day:

No two people are exactly the same, just like no two slices of pizza are exactly the same.

However, there are some things that all pizza slices have in common, like cheese, sauce, and bread.

It's the same with people: no two are exactly the same, but we all have some things that are the same. Everyone's slice may be different, but they all still fit together.

Materials:

- Cardboard
- Scissors
- Markers
- Paper
- Foam
- Glue

Instructions:

1. Discuss the lesson of the day with your students. Talk about what it means to them.
2. Cut large circles out of cardboard and then cut it into slices.
3. Give each student one slice. Have students color the majority of their slice the color of their sauce.
4. Have students add other decorations to the top! They can cut out their toppings from paper or foam and glue them down. They can also add shredded yellow paper as cheese.
